Course Description

SOCIOLOGY 105: Introduction to Sociology (3)

This course introduces major concepts used by sociologists to understand and predict the behaviour of individuals in group settings.

Credit Hour Policy Statement

This course meets the federal requirements of 15 in-class hours plus an expected 30 hours of out-of-class work per credit hour. You are expected to attend each scheduled course period for the entire assigned time; class begins on time and I do not let class out early. However, the time you spend in class is only a portion on your expected time commitment. For every hour you spend in class, it is expected that you will spend two hours outside of class in preparing for or critically examining the course material and content. This includes: readings, working on assignments, and preparing for quizzes and exams. This expectation of time is the standard for all 3-credit courses at the University of Evansville (Harlaxton College). Please consider this time commitment when budgeting your time across the semester.

General Education Objective

This course meets the General Education requirements for:
Outcome 9: Understanding the core concept of society, human behaviour and civic understanding.

Learning Objectives and Goals

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

1) describe sociology and its role as the scientific study of society; 2) define and explain its core concepts and theories; 3) articulate a broader sociological perspective; and 4) critically evaluate information in a global society. We will explore the basic social institutions, systems of inequality, and social forces that shape the world in which we live. Our main focus will be on the intersections of social institutions and how they impact our lives.

Further Information about the Course

Class Discussion: Sociology is a discipline covering many interesting topics that can often lead to lively discussion. You do not always have to agree, but please remember to be courteous and respectful of other students and other ideas and opinions. Disrespect will not be tolerated; those unable to remain respectful will be asked to leave the discussion and will be considered absent for that class period.

Electronic Devices: Please make sure to turn off and leave in your bag all cell phones, smart phones, Bluetooth, and all other electronic or noise-making devices before entering class. They are disruptive to your fellow classmates. If your cell phone rings during class, you will be counted absent during that class period and will not receive attendance credit. Also, please refrain from bringing tablets or laptops to class.

Detailed Information on and Schedule of Assignments and Examinations

Reading Quizzes: There will be 12 reading quizzes throughout the semester, one for each chapter we cover. You should read each chapter prior to the class we begin that chapter. Quizzes will be at the start of class on the first day of each chapter; quiz dates are listed on the course outline. Each quiz will consist of 10 multiple-choice and short-answer questions over the chapter and will be worth 10 points total. If you do not attend a class that has a reading quiz, you will not be allowed to make it up. Your three lowest reading quiz scores will be dropped for your final grade. Quizzes are worth 90 points total, or 18% of your final grade.

Assignments: There are four assignments for this course, allowing you to put into practice what you have learned in the chapters. For each assignment, you will be given a detailed handout explaining what is required. Assignment 1 is worth 20 points and due at the start of class in class on the due date; Assignments 2-4 are each worth 30 points and are due by the start of class via Blackboard Turnitin on the day they are due. Assignments turned in late will lose 5 points for each day they are late (including after the start of class on the due dates). The due dates for assignments are listed on the course outline. Assignments are worth 110 points total, or 22% of your final grade.

Examinations: There are three multiple-choice and short-answer exams given in this course, each of which is worth 100 points. The dates of each exam are provided on the course outline. Late exams will be given without penalty ONLY in the event of a documented emergency, in which case, a make-up test will be given. These tests are similar to, although not necessarily identical to, the regular exam. Make-up exams will be scheduled by appointment only for times other than the regular class period. If you miss a test, you will lose 10 points from the test score per day (including the day of the test) that the test is not taken. For example, if you take the test after our class time on the day of the test, you will lose 10 points; the day after the scheduled exam day, you will lose 20 points, etc. If the missed test is not taken before the next test, the missed test will automatically receive a grade of zero.

Students with tests receiving a score less than 70% (70 out of 100) will meet with me during office hours or by appointment to discuss ways of improving future test scores.

Attendance Policy

Harlaxton College operates a mandatory attendance policy that is binding on all faculty and students.

Because of the amount of material covered, it is in your best interest to attend all classes. Much of the material covered in class is not found in the text but will be on the test. Attendance will daily record your presence. The number of unexcused absences that are allowed before incurring a penalty is related to the number of times a class meets during a week. This means that for this course, which meets twice a week, students are allowed a maximum of two unexcused absences during the semester without attracting penalty points. Additional unexcused absences will attract a grade penalty per absence.

A sign-in sheet will record your attendance for each class; if you forget to sign in, you will be counted absent for that class. Please make sure that you sign the attendance sheet every class.

Tardiness is unprofessional and disruptive to your fellow classmates. If you are more than 5 minutes late for class, you will be considered absent and not be allowed to sign the attendance, take your reading check, or take your exam. Leaving class early is equally disruptive, so please avoid it.

Extra Credit, Incompletes, Drop/Add, and Withdrawal Policies

There will be no opportunities for extra credit, regardless of your current grade. Please study accordingly to achieve the grade you desire. Incompletes will not be given except under extraordinary circumstances.

There is normally about a 10-day period at the beginning of semester what a student may drop and class and/or add a class. The deadline date is published in the Semester Guidance handbook. Drop/Add forms are available from the library and completed forms should be returned to the same place. Faculty signatures are required for all classes being added.

Students may withdraw from a class, with the exception of British Studies, for a longer period of time. It is the responsibility of the student to be aware of the final date to withdraw from the course and still receive a "W" on the transcript. Again the deadline date is published in the Semester Guidance handbook. Forms are available from the College Secretary, to whom completed forms should be returned. Forms must be signed by the faculty member of the class being withdrawn from and the Principal.

All students must register for, and be continuously enrolled in, 12 credit hours of study to be eligible to study at Harlaxton and remain in the United Kingdom.

Disability Policy

It is the policy of the University of Evansville (Harlaxton College) to make reasonable accommodations for students with properly documented disabilities. University of Evansville students should contact the Office of Counselling and Health Education to seek help with this. Students from Partner Universities/Colleges should contact their own relevant student support office. For assistance whilst at Harlaxton students should contact the College Secretary whose office is located adjacent to the Principal's office.

Written notification to faculty from the College Secretary is required for academic accommodations to be implemented.

Honour Code

Academic dishonesty of any sort will not be tolerated. This includes: working together on reflection papers, projects, movie Q&A papers, or exams; copying another's work on exams or papers; having another student/person take your exam, write your papers/projects/responses; submitting your work that previously has been submitted for another course; plagiarism (please see the handout on our course Blackboard site "Avoiding Plagiarism" for a more detailed description of defining and avoiding plagiarism); and all other forms of cheating. If you are unsure, ask me first. Per our Academic Policies and Procedures: "Ignorance is not accepted as a valid excuse for a violation of the Academic Honor Code."

Artificial intelligence (AI) language models, such as ChatGPT, and online assignment help tools, such as Chegg®, are examples of online learning support platforms; they cannot be used for course assignments.

The following actions are prohibited in this course:

- Submitting all or any part of an assignment statement to any online learning support platform;
- Incorporating any part of an AI generated response in an assignment;
- Using AI to brainstorm, formulate arguments, or template ideas for assignments;
- Using AI to summarize or contextualize source materials;
- Submitting your own work for this class to an online learning support platform for iteration or improvement.

As a condition of taking this course, all papers will be subject to submission for textual similarity and AI content review to Turnitin.com. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database. Any student caught violating the Academic Honor Code in any way will be given a zero on that assignment, reflection, or exam and their actions will be reported to their Advisor(s) and the Dean of Students. If this violation is the first offense reported to the Dean of Students, you may be allowed to informally resolve the incident. If it is the second Honor Code violation reported to the Dean (from any class), your actions will result in a hearing before the Honor Council and may include greater penalties. If it is the third Honor Code violation, you will be expelled from the University. Please be aware: there are several resources on campus for help on assignments, papers, and studying for exams, including coming to office hours and talking to me! Do not fail an assignment or class because you did not utilize these resources. As in all University of Evansville courses, we will abide by, and commit to, the Academic Honor Code.

I understand that any work which I submit for course credit will imply that I have adhered to this Academic Honor Code: "I will neither give nor receive unauthorized aid nor will I tolerate an environment which condones the use of unauthorized aid."
